

Junior Graphic Designer

Singapore based | Remote working

Quadmark is looking for a Singapore based creative Junior Graphic Designer. You will have a passion for the latest creative techniques and trends to interpret our clients needs and to design solutions with high visual impact. You will work on a variety of assets, including training packages, marketing collaterals, online modules, incentive and certification campaigns, animation storyboards, gamification concepts and layouts, posters & flyers (both digital and print), presentation decks, websites, web banners, mailers, and product packaging / SWAG, working closely with our other designers, copywriters, animators, platforms and accounts teams.

Taking direction and feedback from the Lead Designers, our promise is to develop you and help you grow your career. Your promise to us is to execute with commitment, passion and positive energy for the team.

What will you do?

- You will take the design “brief” to record our clients’ requirements
- Work closely with project and account managers on deliverables and expectations.
- You will enhance interactive e-learning training materials through the creation of visuals.
- You will create digital and print collateral based on current and emerging creative industry trends that align with client branding and standards.
- You will think creatively and develop new design concepts, graphics and layouts.
- You will be agile, supporting the Lead Designers with amends to existing collateral and designs.
- You will collaborate with a team of content developers, copywriters and other designers to produce best-in-class material.

- You will have room for creative experimental approaches but with emphasis and understanding of the client’s brand guidelines, in turn communicating messages as clearly as possible.

About you:

- You are a recent graduate or have 1-2 years experience in multimedia design (either in an agency or in-house) with a diploma/degree in digital and / or print design or a related discipline.
- You have knowledge of typography, layout and design with the ability to illustrate visually engaging assets.
- You have a knack for designing fresh and engaging materials that transform complex information and messaging into easy-to-remember and exciting content.
- You have proficiency in Adobe Illustrator, InDesign and Photoshop (proficiency in Figma, animation, video editing or UI design would also be a massive plus).

- You are a confident (or willing to become) user of Google applications such as Google Slides, Mail and Drive.
- You are a diligent and pro-active worker, taking direction from the Lead Designer and Head of Design / Creative Director.
- You have great initiative and communication skills, collaborating with the design teams who are working in different timezones with good file admin and clear handovers.
- Can do – team and solutions focused attitude.
- Organised with task priorities and file admin. Clear handovers when working with our designers in a different timezone.
- You are a very effective communicator, keeping the key people involved in a project up to date with good updates.
- You have no ego, you are a team player, receptive to change, feedback and other people's opinions - not just in the design team but in the wider teams aswell.
- You have a positive outlook, not a troublemaker.
- You can work fast when needed, taking care of multiple tasks in a working day, yet still able to keep up the quality control.

To thrive at Quadmark you also have these attributes:

- Humility - you are self aware, self critical, respectful and modest. You have a great sense of humour and don't take yourself too seriously.
- Adaptability - you are curious by nature and motivated by constant change. You ask lots of questions and look for opportunities to develop yourself. You are forward thinking, challenge the norm and like to be stretched out of your comfort zone.
- Commitment - You are high energy and have a strong work ethic. You are an organised person who doesn't mind rolling up their sleeves and getting on with it, with a sense of ownership and resourcefulness.
- Collaboration - you have an open, honest and transparent communication style. You operate with teamwork first. You are a good listener, open to the ideas and share knowledge to enable and better others.
- Caring - trust and mutual respect are a given for you. You care about the outcome and are willing to go the extra mile and make a difference. You always look for the opportunity to help others when bandwidth allows.

Why you will love working with us

- The opportunity to work with amazing people everyday.
- Exposure to continuous and cutting edge learning.
- The flexibility to work remotely.
- Being part of a supportive, rewarding and fun environment and a growing team!
- 25 days holiday plus bank holidays.
- Private healthcare and pension contributions.
- Potential bonus scheme.

About Quadmark

Back in 1999 we began our mission to inspire teams to think differently about their customer experience. We do this through a blend of advising, creating and enablement. We now work with some of the world's most exciting organisations to drive growth and productivity throughout their ecosystem.

We love working with fast paced and continuously evolving organisations because we understand what it takes to inspire change and learning in tech savvy teams. Delivering quantifiable results through a blend of global expertise, customised training and sales enablement.

We really do understand complex business and the latest market challenges, allowing us to motivate teams to go to market using relevant, technology driven and creative sales tools. We integrate our expertise into dynamic businesses by sharing our channel know how and designing genuinely creative content.

We are global, we are fast and we think big. We are a bit nerdy, we hate powerpoint and we love what we do!

How to Apply

If this role sounds like something you'd be great at, we'd love to hear from you. Please email careeropportunities@quadmark.com for more info.

